											My birthday came and went this year and no one acknowledged it. Honestly, I'm Ok with it and I didn't mind, but other people could be really hurt, saddened or feel unseen if no one knows it's their birthday. Especially when some people are celebrated excessively. I tried to create a birthday chart in the staff room because this is not the first year that this has happened to me. I guess no one looked at it. I really hope this doesn't happen to anyone else.
